How to fall asleep and stay asleep

		I already do this	I could add this
	Get some sunshine on your skin to start your day
During the Day	Caffeine is a stimulant - make 2pm your last cup
	Avoid nanny-naps longer than 20mins
	Smoking is a stimulant - be mindful of when and how much you smoke
	Write your 'to do' list for the next day at the end of every day
	Resolve conversations, problems, concerns or write them in a journal so they are out of your head
	Complete exercise at least 2hrs before bedtime otherwise you can delay the release of melatonin, which helps to start the sleep cycle. It can also increase body temperature, which can hinder your sleep.
	Get a relaxing massage at the end of the day

Your bedroom	Purchase a new, comfortable, supportive mattress and/or pillow
	Ensure the room temperature is not too hot and not too cold. Choose appropriate sheets for the season
	Create a dark, quiet room. Invest in some block-out curtains if necessary or use an eye sleep mask
	I know it is snugly and cute but keep pets out of your bedroom so you don't get woken with their 3am grooming or play!
	Use good quality silicone earplugs if you have a snoring partner (or pet)
	All devices MUST be out of the bedroom. Treat yourself to a real alarm clock. MVO - phone on aeroplane mode

Sleep Worksheet

At night - create a buffer between daytime & sleep time	Eat at least 90-120mins before bed
	Minimise your alcohol intake
	No work-related activity at least 45mins before bed
	Turn off all phones, iPads, computers, laptops, TV at least 45mins before bed. Set an alarm as a reminder to turn them off
	Read a pleasant, not work-related book, i.e. fiction (even for 5mins), so your brain knows it is wind down time
	Take a warm bath with lavender oil. Surround the bath with candles
	Sip on warm almond milk and honey, or camomile tea
	Listen to quiet, relaxing music
	Other -

		I already do this	I could add this
Just before bed	Treat bedtime like an appointment. Be strict and go to bed at the same time every night and wake at the same time every morning. Set an alarm to tell you when to go to bed
	Change into sleep gear - not gym gear or active wear or around the house gear
	Start a bedtime movement ritual - yoga, tai chi, stretching, breathing, gratitude diary/mantra, or listen to a meditation/sleep app
	Once in bed: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Spray lavender oil on your pillow and/or use a lavender hand cream 10 x belly-breathing or alternate nostril breathing

Seek medical help if:

1. Medical issues such as pain, toilet stops, side effects of medication are preventing you from having a good night's sleep.
2. You have tried all of the above suggestions but you are still not able to fall asleep or stay asleep.
